

GLENKINCHIE

Glenkinchie is only fifteen miles from the bustle of Edinburgh's Royal Mile and its magnificent castle. In fact, the closeness of the city makes the quiet surroundings of Glenkinchie seem remote by contrast. This farming country is the perfect place not only for growing barley, but also for creating the multi-award winning, undisputed champion of the Lowland malts.

TASTING NOTES

GLENKINCHIE 12 YEAR OLD

A light, delicate whisky; sweet and creamy with a subtle floral fragrance.

TALISKER

The Isle of Skye is without doubt one of the most dramatic locations of any of the Classic Malt distilleries. If you do visit, try to see the Carbost Burn and Talisker's unique wash stills. And depending on where you stay, why not ask for a dram of Talisker with a dish of kipper fillets or smoked salmon? It's a combination that's hard to bear.

TALISKER 10 YEAR OLD

Smoky-sweet with a hint of sea salt and a warming, peppery finish.
